

Your Invitation to:

ATUG's Wireless Workshop – what WiMAX means for end users!

This month's ATUG NSW crossXconnect on Wednesday 15 August 2007 will feature a 'Wireless Workshop'. ATUG would like to welcome all members to be a part of this important discussion.

Wireless has the best potential to provide infrastructure competition while at the same time meeting end user needs for convenience, connectivity and (if pricing plans are good!) price. Wireless is also driving significant innovation in the communications marketplace and meeting needs in difficult to serve regional areas.

The workshop will be chaired by ATUG Vice-Chairman Paul Morris and will include think-pieces by Grant Stepa - Airspan, Simon Curry - INTEL, Richard Chirgwin - Market Clarity, Stephen Wright - Optus and David Spence - Unwired.

There will be time for open discussion and networking. If there is a particular issue you feel speakers should address your suggestions will be most welcome.
